ECONOMY

1.42 million people (residents and non-residents) hunted or fished in Pennsylvania in 2011, which is almost the same as the population of the City of Philadelphia (1.42 million vs. 1.5 million).

There are more resident sportsmen and women in Pennsylvania than the combined total home attendance for the Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2011 (1.28 million vs. 1.06 million).

Sportsmen and women spent $1.5 billion on hunting and fishing in Pennsylvania in 2011 - that is more than the combined receipts for corn and cattle, the state's #2 and #3 agricultural commodities that year ($1.5 billion vs. $1.23 billion).

Hunters and anglers support roughly the same number of jobs in Pennsylvania as Pennsylvania State University, the third largest employer in the state (24,797 vs. 25,000).

Spending by sportsmen and women in Pennsylvania generated $181 million in state and local taxes in 2011 - that's enough to support the average salaries of 3,238 police and sheriff's patrol officers.
