

Idaho sportsmen & women

534,000 hunters & anglers spent $1.02 billion in 2011

SPORTSMEN BENEFIT THE STATE ECONOMY

534,000 people (residents and non-residents) hunted or fished in Idaho in 2011, more than the combined populations of the five largest cities in the state: Boise City, Nampa, Meridian, Idaho Falls and Pocatello (534,000 vs. 473,000).

The number of people who hunt each year in Idaho could fill Boise State's Bronco Stadium more than six and a half times (246,300 hunters vs 37,000 capacity).

Sportsmen and women spent $1.02 billion on hunting and fishing in Idaho in 2011, more than the revenues from potatoes, the state's third highest grossing agricultural commodity ($1.02 billion vs. $914 million).

Hunters and anglers support 15,261 jobs in Idaho - that is more than St. Luke's Health System and Micron, the state's largest and third-largest employers, respectively (15,261 vs. 13,000-14,500 estimated jobs).

Spending by sportsmen and women in Idaho generated $97 million in state and local taxes in 2011, enough to support the average salaries of more than 2,100 police and sheriff's patrol officers.
